

Richard P. Moser, PhD, FSBM

Personal Statement

I am Richard (Rick) Moser, and I am seeking your vote as a member delegate for the Society of Behavioral Medicine (SBM). I was trained as a clinical psychologist and bring over 23 years of experience at the National Cancer Institute (NCI) in the Behavioral Research Program. In my roles as research methods coordinator, program director for grants management, and training director for the Division of Cancer Control and Population Sciences, I have developed expertise in research methods and available resources, grants management, and mentorship.

As member delegate, I would focus on supporting SBM members by promoting training and mentoring opportunities, particularly in navigating grant and research resources, especially those available from the federal government. I believe that increasing awareness and access to these resources helps promote equity within our community. I would want to support and promote methods-focused SBM members through resources like the Outlook newsletter.

SBM is my professional home, and I was honored to be elected a Fellow in 2023. I also served as chair for the Population Health Sciences Special Interest Group. I am eager to bring my experience and passion for mentorship, resource education, and equity to this role.

Thank you for your consideration.
